The Terry Fox Foundation firmly believes in its obligation to be fully transparent in all matters relating to fiscal reporting. With only 3 cents of every dollar raised going towards administration, and 10 cents going towards fundraising costs, the Foundation is an industry leader in fundraising accountability. Please share this important message with your donors.

87¢
of every dollar raised goes to cancer research

Follow us on:

I am a cancer survivor who finished my PhD at the Queen's University Cancer Research Institute in Kingston Ontario last year. My research, which focuses on mechanisms of thyroid cancer development, was funded for three years through a Terry Fox Foundation Biomedical Studentship. I am not only grateful for the financial support this research has received from the Foundation, but also for the many opportunities I have had to interact with the staff, volunteers and supporters of the Foundation.

Whenever I am invited to speak at a Terry Fox Run or a school that hosts Terry Fox events I am always impressed with the excitement, commitment and dedication on display. When I speak I try to stress three major points:

1) We DO have cures for cancer; I am living proof of this. Unfortunately, cancer is MORE than one disease and we don't yet have cures for each one. Investment in cancer research will lead to treatments that will allow more people to say, I beat cancer, just like me.

2) Without the money we receive from organizations like the Foundation, Canadian cancer researchers would not be able to have the international impact that they do.

The Terry Fox Foundation is particularly talented at seeking out high-potential, innovative, and collaborative research projects to fund. If you look through the funding history of the majority of Canada's best cancer researchers, you will find they have had a Terry Fox grant at some point in their career.

3) There is no better way to get money directly into the hands of cancer researchers than through The Terry Fox Foundation. The ability of this organization to minimize administrative costs is unmatched by other charities of this size. When you donate to the TFF you can be assured that at least 87 cents from every dollar is transferred directly to a Canadian cancer researcher's laboratory budget. I attribute this to the principles espoused by Terry 30 years ago, ones that the Foundation continue to abide by to this day. Thank you so much.

Our online pledging system via www.terryfox.org is an efficient and effective way to collect pledges. It can be used as your only method of collecting pledges or it can complement the use of hard-copy pledge sheets. In 2010, over $3.4 million was raised using our online pledging system.

When registered online, you can email friends, family, co-workers and business associates asking them to support your fundraising efforts financially. The benefits of collecting pledges online are two-fold:

1. When a pledge is made online, a tax receipt will instantly be delivered to the donor's inbox.
2. Every donation made online saves The Terry Fox Foundation 80 cents in administrative costs - helping to keep 87 cents of every dollar raised going to cancer research.

Please use this pledge sheet to complement your online efforts
